

When seated three inches from my fellow travelers in a seat that is too small, the very last thing I would want is someone talking [too loud] into a cell phone....give us a break.